

European Pragmatism Conference

3-5 August

UCL

Dinner Recommendations in London:

There are many dining options around UCL's main campus. You can find all types of cuisines for different budgets within 10-15 minutes' walk from the conference venue. If you are dining with a large group, we recommend booking in advance and specify if you want to sit inside or outside. For those who are not familiar with the tipping culture in London, most restaurants add a 12% service charge automatically to your bill at the end. If the service charge is not included, it is customary to add ~10% tip voluntarily depending on the quality of the service.

- Bloomsbury: the area surrounding Marchmont Street and Tavistock Place has many nice restaurants and pubs. Some of our favourites are: The Norfolk Arms (old English pub converted to a tapas bar), North Sea Fish Restaurant, Choppaluna, Pizza Sophia. You can also find some nice restaurants like the Hare and Tortoise and Riding House Bloomsbury at the The Brunswick Centre.
- Drummond Street and the surrounding area has excellent South Asian food – some of London's best Indian restaurants are here. Our favourites are Diwana and Ravi Shankar. Try also the Great Nepalese, in Eversholt Street.
- Fitzrovia: Charlotte Street and Goodge Street is at walking distance from the main campus. You can find many small to medium size restaurants with a variety of cuisines. This is a bustling area. Some of our favourites are: Thai Metro, Icco Pizzeria, Ote, Trattoria Mondello, KOB.A.
- Arcade Food Hall is a new venue next to Tottenham Court Road Station – it contains many small food stalls ranging from sushi to burgers, good for a big group with different dietary needs.
- Kings Cross and Granary Square: This is a great place to visit if you prefer somewhere with outside seating. The prices are slightly higher in this area but the food is great! Some of our favourites: German Gymnasium Grand Café, Vinoteca, Granger & Co., Granary Square Brasserie, The Lighterman.
- Soho: If you would like to sit outside and you are feeling adventurous, we recommend a trip to Soho where there is plenty of al fresco dining options.

Breakfast:

For those who do not have breakfast included with their accommodation or prefer to have options, there are many breakfast options near UCL.

- Lever & Bloom Coffee Van on Byng Place with great coffee and pastries (great cardamom bun)
- Store Street Espresso (there is one on Store Street and one on Tavistock Place) with great coffee and breakfast menu.
- There is also a Pret a Manger on Tavistock Square Gardens which is convenient and quick.
